Narrative: The Gilford Police Department received the report of an unwanted subject at 9 Sargent Place Unit 115. The homeowner wanted the subject removed from the residence. It was discovered that the subject

RONALD JACQUES
DOB: 09/17/1954

was wanted for a Parole Violation out of New York State. The Parole offense was Robbery. New York State Division of Parole listed a full extradition status for the warrant. The Gilford Police Department received additional information that Jacques was possibly armed with a .22 caliber handgun. Jacques has an extensive criminal history to include charges for Manslaughter, Attempt to Commit Murder, and 1st Degree Robbery.

Officers from the Gilford Police Department and two Troopers from the New Hampshire State Police surrounded the residence and attempted to make contact with Jacques using a loud speaker. The attempts were not successful. After confirming where Jacques was located inside the residence, a team of Gilford Police Officers and Troopers from the New Hampshire State Police made entry into the residence and took Jacques into custody in the back bedroom. Jacques was taken into custody without incident. No weapon was found inside the residence. Jacques was transported to the Belknap Country Jail where he is being held until authorities from the New York State Division of Parole take custody of him and return him to New York.
